

Strategy consulting opportunity

Consultant position

INDEFI is a fast-growing strategy advisory firm for the asset management industry. Established in 2007 and based in Paris, our clients are asset managers, private equity investors and their portfolio companies.

We conduct project work for global top 50 asset managers, fast-rising investment boutiques and specialist private equity investors across Europe.

We help them:

- Articulate their business strategy and build competitive advantage;
- Assess investment opportunities (e.g. strategic due diligences) and optimize their portfolio;
- Define their digital strategy (digital due diligence and portfolio reviews);
- Develop and integrate ESG - climate change investment strategies.

As part of our local and international development, we are looking for fresh graduates from top-tier business and engineering schools / universities to join us as strategy consultants.

Your role:

You will take part in international projects that cover a wide range of challenging topics. For each project, we bring together a dedicated team of up to five people for durations ranging from three to six weeks.

Your main responsibilities will be:

- Data collection and analysis;
- Field research and interviews with market experts;
- Analysis and interpretation of the research and transformation into clear strategic advice;
- Support in the delivery of strategic recommendations at senior executive level.

About you:

We are looking to strengthen our team with highly talented individuals showing a combination of exceptional intellectual ability, analytical skills and business sense. The preferred candidates should be motivated to take responsibility quickly, demonstrate an ownership mentality and an ability to seize opportunities and make a difference.

Required qualifications:

- Graduated from a top-tier business or engineering school / university;
- Relevant prior internship(s) at either strategy consulting firms, strategy division or M&A department of international groups, investment banks, asset management or private equity firms;
- Full Fluency in English. A good working knowledge of French or other European languages would be a plus.

What INDEFI can offer you:

- High-end strategy advisory firm with actively involved partners;
- Highly cohesive team of 30+ consultants;
- Dynamic but relaxed and supportive working environment that encourages personal development;
- Clear merit-based culture that promotes and rewards excellence;
- Competitive salary with bonus based on performance;
- Entrepreneurial opportunities driven by the rapid expansion and diversification of the company.

You can also find out more about INDEFI by visiting: www.indefi.com

Please send your cover letter and resume with “2019-T1-WS” in the subject line at: recrutement@indefi.com